Forecast for Tuesday 03 May 2022

Weather: A lot of cloud expected throughout the day, this shrouding the Munro tops although ranges north of Assynt may stay clear of hill fog until the afternoon. A little light and patchy rain expected at times through the day, although this mostly confined inland by afternoon.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 30%, but 60% in the far north

Low cloud and visibility: Poor in extensive low cloud down to 500 to 800 metres across the west and south of the area, although western coastal ranges may see cloud lift and break at times. Low cloud much broken in the far north although becoming more extensive from the south as the afternoon progresses.

Met Office Aberdeen Meteorologist's View
Rather cold under cloud cover on the higher tops

Forecast for Wednesday 04 May 2022
Weather: Cloudy with outbreaks of rain in the morning. Becoming mostly dry in the afternoon although still with a lot of cloud, west coast will see some brightness however.

Maximum wind: Westerly 25 mph

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 40%

Low cloud and visibility: Poor in cloud down to 600 to 900 metres, this extensive until early evening. Cloud likely to break and lift off all but the higher summits along the west coast in the afternoon however. Otherwise very good visibility developing once cloud clears.

Temperature: Glens: Plus 6 rising to 15 Celsius
At 800m: Plus 6 Celsius
Freezing level: Above summits
